Dodge County, Incorporated: Big Ag and the Undoing of Rural America by Sonja Trom Eayrs

In a compelling firsthand account of one family's efforts to stand against corporate takeover, Trom Eayrs tells a story of corporate malfeasance. Starting with the late 1800s, when her Norwegian great-grandfather immigrated to Dodge County, Trom Eayrs tracks the changes to farming over the years that gave rise to the disembodied corporate control of today's food system. Trom Eayrs argues that far from being an essential or inextricable part of American life, corporatism can and should be fought and curbed, not only for the sake of land, labor, and water but for democracy itself.
